

Education

Bachelor of Arts in Film and Video Production
Columbia College, Chicago

Creative Capital Professional Development Workshop, Spring, 2010

Exhibitions

Society of Minnesota Sculptors Annual Exhibit, 2012
Phipps Center for the Arts, Hudson, Wisconsin

St. Paul Art Crawl, spring and fall, 2004 - 2014

State Fair Entries 1994, 1995, 1996

Public Art

"Juvenile Griffin" has hung in The Black Dog Cafe in St. Paul since January, 2009

"A Dream of The Great Northern Railway", a commissioned, permanent artwork installed at the St. Paul Union Depot, 2014

Honors

Blue Ribbon, MN State Fair, 1994
for "Chalicotherium Laurentian"

Second Place, MN State Fair, 1996
for "Viking Burial Mask"

Grants

Forecast Public Art, Research and Development Grant, February 2011

Finalist: Knight Arts Challenge grant (winners to be announced September 29, 2014)

Organizational Memberships

Society of Minnesota Sculptors

Public Presentations

"The Beaker and The Brush Discussions", sponsored by The Science Museum of Minnesota and The St. Paul Art Collective. October 9, 2012, "Fantastic and Fantastical Evolution".

Show & Tell of selected creatures and artifacts at the Science Museum of Minnesota's Halloween celebration, October 2013.

Show & Tell of selected artwork at Vesper College, December 2013.

Media Coverage

Featured on "Boing-Boing" Science and Technology Blog, 2011

Featured on National Public Radio/Public Radio International's "Studio 360", August 3, 2007: "Mr. Bahl's Studio of Wonders"
HYPERLINK "<http://www.studio360.org/episodes/2007/08/03>"

Featured on Fox 9 News with M.A. Rosko, October 7, 2010

Featured in St. Paul Pioneer Press article "8 to See: St Paul Art Crawl Best Bets". October 9, 2009

Featured artist on "Lowertown", a TV series on St. Paul Neighborhood Network (SPNN). Shown on a rotating schedule with other Lowertown artists since summer, 2009.

Reviewed in "How Was the Show.com", a web review of music & arts in the Twin Cities:

"St. Paul Art Crawl: An Overview on 10/14/06"

and

"St. Paul Art Crawl on 10/12/08"

HYPERLINK "<http://www.howwastheshow.com>"

Interviewed for "3 Minute Egg", a daily videoblog focusing on Twin Cities artists and their work. October 13, 2008

HYPERLINK "<http://www.3minuteegg.wordpress.com>"

In 2010, when light-rail excavation began in Lowertown, I participated in a hoax in which a partial skeleton was found. I supplied the bones and posed as the scientific expert in the photograph that circulated in the news and city administration where it caused some anxiety for a short time.